4. Regency Fiction/Novel of Manners (from CAMM group)
 - Library of Congress Genre/Form Terms has established a new heading, "Novels of Manners." CCS still uses "Regency fiction" as a local subject heading. CAMM discussed whether CCS should use one or both headings on records. CAMM discussed the different uses for the different headings. Regency fiction could describe regency romance, as well as historical fiction or mysteries set during that specific time period. The group decided to take this question to PAS at their September meeting. Desio and L. Rubio agreed to present together to PAS, with the assistance of CCS
5. Reopening Libraries to the public
 - a. How are libraries allowing patrons in? Register ahead of time, limited amount of time, no restriction?
 - b. Handling of materials during patron browsing
 - c. Assisting patrons with computers, materials, reference, etc.
6. Reschedule December Meeting
7. Open Discussion
