

Virginia's Notes

For the CCS CAMM meeting, 16Nov, 2022

Subject heading changes
worthy of note

Library of Congress has changed many subject headings recently

Two important ones are:

- “Brothers and sisters”, has been changed to “Siblings”
- “Problem youth”, has been changed to “At-risk youth”
- Headings that begin with or have Primitive in it’s heading, like “Art, Primitive” and “Primitive societies have been changed
- Most changed to use the term Prehistoric instead

Some personal headings updated

- Most of British royal family has been updated
- Death dates added or change of title
- Such as Charles†bIII,†cKing of Great Britain,†d1948-
- Elizabeth†bII,†cQueen of Great Britain,†d1926-2022

Subject heading changes

- All the forementioned subject headings were changed in the CCS database

Homosaurus updates

- From their newest release, about 25 headings were updated in the CCS catalog
- Changed headings formed a pattern
- Such as “LGBTQ+ African Americans” changed to “African American LGBTQ+”
- Or “Gay Asians” to “Asian gay men”

Genre indicator reminder

- Please remember that most genres, such as “Thrillers (Fiction)” use the 2nd indicator of 7
- But seven genre heading still use the 2nd indicator of 0 (because they were derived from a LCSH heading).
- They include: “Large type books”, “Young adult fiction”, “Jewish fiction”, “Catholic fiction”, “Feminist fiction”, “Chick lit”, and “Big books”

Genre indicator reminder (cont.)

- Bibliographic records with the correct indicator ensures that the heading will be linked properly
- Over 5000 heading have been updated recently

For those who are independent
NACO
contributors:

Please email me heading that you change that have lots of affected bibliographical records

I was made aware of 2 changes lately from other CCS catalogers

This will ensure that the heading is updated promptly

Marcive will send those headings in their monthly files, but sometimes it takes me awhile to load those files

655 _7 Adaptations

- Be careful on how you use the genre term.
- It might be a “Novelization” instead of an “Adaptation”
- This is especially true when you are cataloging a book or other item with subject matter that was originally in a motion picture or television program

Proper use of Novelization instead of Based on in a 730

See bib control #3996668 for the proper use of Novelization instead of “Based on”

730 0 iNovelization of:aDC League of Super-pets (Motion picture)

The plot and stories from a motion picture or a television program are converted into the form of a novel

Possible use of “TV tie-in” in a 730

- See bibliographic #4130854 for a possible use of “TV tie-in” instead of “Adaptations”
- 730 0 #iTV tie-in:#aZ-O-M-B-I-E-S (Television program)
- It’s not exactly an adaptation of the television program, but it’s a new story written with characters and setting from the program.
